Osborne Industries Names Vice President of Finance and Administration

Osborne Industries announced that Tom Kober has been named Vice President of Finance and Administration. As Vice President of Finance and Administration, he oversees all the financial activities of the corporation, the Information Technology function, Purchasing and Human Resources. He also provides strategic leadership by establishing and implementing long range goals, strategies, plans and policies that continuously improve the overall effectiveness of Osborne Industries.

Kober brings more than 20 years of experience in finance, auditing and management to Osborne Industries. Previously, he was with Landmark Manufacturing Corporation in Gallatin, Missouri.

A native of Winston, Missouri, Kober holds a BS in Accounting from William Jewell College, Liberty, Missouri. He has been active in many civic organizations including the Missouri Chamber of Commerce, Winston City Chairman and financial advisor for 15 years.

Kober looks forward to establishing numerous goals and objectives that will generate business growth and additional employment opportunities for the Osborne Industries team. Vice President of Operations, George Eakin, said, “In the past, Tom has been involved in companies that have grown to nearly triple their original size. We are very excited to have Tom on our team as we prepare for future growth.”

Osborne Industries is a 100% employee-owned diversified developer of livestock equipment and custom molded plastics via Reaction Injection Molding (RIM) and Resin Transfer Molding (RTM), and is located in Osborne, Kansas.
